Mr. Andrew Knowlton
Station WHRC
Haverford College
Haverford, Pennsylvania

Dear Andy:

Pressure of school work has unfortunately kept me from answering your letter of January 16, any sooner.

In that letter you pointed out that a station in Hickory, North Carolina is now in operation using the call letters WHRC. According to the records I have in New York, the following stations are now broadcasting in that city:

WHKY (ABC) Catawaba Valley Broadcasting Co.
Radio Bldg., Hickory, N. C.
WIRC Foothills Broadcasting Company
1423 Eleventh Ave., Hickory, N.C.

The call letters in North Carolina most like yours are the ones used by the Mutual outlet, WHNC, at Henderson.

Since there is a possibility that the station you referred to is not listed in my files, I am forwarding your letter to George Abraham of our Washington office who will check with the records of the Federal Communications Commission.

Your call letters are registered with the F.C.C. and should not be interfered with by any other station. Please keep me informed of further information you may receive on this matter.

Yours truly,

Ed Kelty

Dear Andy:

Pressure of school work has unfortunately kept me from answering your letter of January 16, any sooner.

In the letter you pointed out that a station in Hickory, North Carolina is now in operation using the call letters WERC. According to the records I have in New York, the following stations are now broadcasting in that city:

WERY (ABC) Catawba Valley Broadcasting Co.
Radio Bldg., Hickory, N. C.
WERC
Footbills Broadcasting Company
1438 Eleventh Ave., Hickory, N. C.

The call letters in North Carolina most like yours are the ones used by the Mutual outlet, WERC, at Henderson.

Since there is a possibility that the station you referred to is not listed in my files, I am forwarding your letter to George Abbott of our Washington office who will check with the records of the Federal Communications Commission.

Your call letters are registered with the F.C.C. and should not be interfered with by any other station. Please keep me informed of further information you may receive on this matter.

Yours truly,
